

M · MONITOR

you are also being watched

An encounter with the limits of your own point of view.

🕒 15 MINUTES

THE MESS

1. Choose a space you know well. Spend five minutes moving through it normally, noticing what you notice.
2. Now ask: what in this space has been noticing you — or adapting to you, or waiting for you to leave? Look for evidence: worn paths, marks, traces, behaviors that happen when you're absent or present.
3. Write one sentence from the point of view of something that shares this space with you.

Notice: the difference between observing a situation and being observed within one.

NO OUTCOME REQUIRED.
