

E · EXECUTE

move anyway

An encounter with one thing you can do from inside the confusion — before it clears.

🕒 10 MINUTES

THE MESS

1. Name something you have been waiting to act on until you understood it better. Not a practical obstacle — a feeling that you don't yet know what you actually think or want.
2. Ask: what would you do next if you accepted that the understanding might only come from moving, not from more thinking?
3. Write down one action that feels possible from where you are now — not from where you want to be.

Notice: whether waiting for clarity has become its own kind of stalling.

NO OUTCOME REQUIRED.