someone to stay in it with

An encounter with the difference between someone who helps you tidy the mess up and someone who helps you work through it.

🕒 15 MINUTES

THE MESS

1. Think of something confusing or unresolved you are currently carrying. Who have you talked to about it?
2. For each person, ask honestly: did they help you understand it better, or help you feel better about it? Both matter — but they're different things.
3. Think of one person who tends to keep the conversation going rather than closing it down. What would it look like to bring this mess to them?

Notice: whether you have been seeking comfort over clarity — and whether that has been a deliberate choice.

NO OUTCOME REQUIRED.
