

M · MONITOR

you are also being watched

An encounter with the limits of your own point of view.

🕒 15 MINUTES

THE MESS

1. Choose a space you know well. Spend five minutes moving through it normally, noticing what you notice.
2. Now ask: what in this space has been noticing you — or adapting to you, or waiting for you to leave? Look for evidence: worn patches, marks, things that have shifted, behaviors that change when you're around or away.
3. Write one sentence from the point of view of something that shares this space with you.

Notice: the difference between observing a situation and being observed within one.

NO OUTCOME REQUIRED.