

M · MONITOR

the unwatched corner

An encounter with selective inattention — what you are deliberately not looking at.

🕒 10 MINUTES

THE MESS

1. Get paper. Write "what I'm currently not looking at" at the top.
2. List everything — work, relationships, health, money, your own behavior. Names only. No explanations.
3. Read the list once without adding to it or reacting to any item.

Notice: where your eyes want to skip.

NO OUTCOME REQUIRED.
