

S · SURRENDER

the strategic unknowing

An encounter with something you have been choosing not to know about yourself.

🕒 10 MINUTES

THE MESS

1. Finish this sentence honestly: "I have been avoiding finding out whether I..."
2. Write what you're afraid the answer is.
3. Don't investigate it. Just sit with the fact that you already suspect.

Notice: how much energy the not-knowing is costing.

NO OUTCOME REQUIRED.
