

Y · YIELD

the volunteer

An encounter with something useful or true that arrived without being invited.

🕒 10 MINUTES

THE MESS

1. Think of the last week or month. What showed up without your arranging it — a conversation, an insight, a connection, a feeling you didn't expect?
2. Write it down as specifically as you can. Don't interpret it yet.
3. Ask: what made you available to receive it when it arrived?

Notice: whether the most useful things in this period were planned or volunteered.

NO OUTCOME REQUIRED.
